State Department of Education
Division of Public Schools
Jefferson City, Missouri
January 1, 1950

*Honorable Forrest Smith
Governor of Missouri
Jefferson City, Missouri*

Dear Sir:

In compliance with Senate Bill 256, Laws of 1945, Section 8, Part 9, I have the honor to submit herewith the One Hundredth Annual Report of the State Department of Education, Division of Public Schools, for the school year beginning July 1, 1948 and ending June 30, 1949.

The usual narrative portion of the annual report has been reduced to a few concise and meaningful statements under each section of each division. It is hoped that this type of information will be helpful to a better understanding of the work of each section of the Department of Education.

Since this is the one hundredth annual report we are reprinting, beginning on page 17, the 1848 Report of the Superintendent of Common Schools, Mr. Falkland H. Martin. Many people will be interested in comparing the report of one hundred years ago with the report of 1948-49.

Respectfully submitted,

State Commissioner of Education

THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The supervision of instruction in the public schools is vested in the State Board of Education, composed of eight members.

It is the duty of the Board to appoint a Commissioner of Education, who shall serve as its chief administrative officer. Members of the professional staff are appointed on his recommendation.

Some of the other many responsibilities of the Board include:

1. The carrying out of the educational policies of the State, relating to public schools, as provided by law.
2. The investment of all moneys received by the State to be applied to the capital of any fund for educational purposes.
3. The apportionment of state school moneys to the various school districts.
4. The assembling of information that will reflect continuously the condition and management of the public schools.
5. The securing of reports from county officials and boards of education as will reflect the condition of schools and their management.
6. The publishing of laws relating to schools.
7. The providing of blanks for the reporting of information required.
8. The certification of teachers.
9. The classification of the public schools.
10. The making of an annual report to the General Assembly when in session, otherwise to the Governor.

The State Board of Education meets in Jefferson City. Official action can be taken only with a majority vote of the Board. The Board establishes policies in accordance with the law for the Division of Public Schools. To the Commissioner of Education and the members of the staff, the Board must look for the effective interpretation and implementation of these policies.

The State Board of Education is the State Board for Vocational Education.

The members of the Board receive as compensation for their services $10.00 for each day spent in the attendance of board meetings and are reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

FIFTH REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF COMMON SCHOOLS

Office of Secretary of State,
City of Jefferson, December 25, 1848.

To the General Assembly of the State of Missouri:

In accordance with the provisions of an act, entitled "An act to provide for the organization, support and government of Common Schools, in the State of Missouri," approved March 27, 1845, I have the honor of herewith submitting to the General Assembly, the Fifth Report of the Superintendent.

The annexed tables exhibit the two apportionments of State school moneys, which have been made since the adjournment of the last Legislature. The first was made in conformity to the provisions of the act of 1845; the second, in accordance with the first section of an act, entitled "An act to apportion the State school moneys equally among the children in the State, and to amend an act, entitled 'An act to provide for the organization, support and government of common schools.'"

It will be perceived by an examination of the first table which forms a part of this report, that the sixth apportionment, made immediately after the adjournment of the last General Assembly, was based upon the reports of directors and clerks of the county courts, and conforming with the requisitions of the act of March 27th, 1845. Under this apportionment it will be seen that the whole amount of money distributed was $48,579.78 and that the number of children reported was 55,204 which gave to each child the sum of eighty-eight cents—falling but twelve cents below the maximum fixed by law.

The seventh and last apportionment, is based upon an enumeration of children between the ages of six and twenty years in each municipal township of the several counties in the State and conforms to the provisions of the act of 1847. Under this act all the counties in the State except those of Caldwell, Harrison, New Madrid, Shannon, Texas, and Wright made either full or partial reports.

The aggregate number of children in the five hundred forty-two municipal townships that were reported by justices of the peace as being between the ages of six and twenty years under the act of the last session, is 142,398, being an increase in one year of the number of children who received aid from the State fund of 90,294. This is exclusive of "the children in any city, town or village, the inhabitants of which have had a grant of lots or land for the use of schools therein by virtue of any law of the United States." Thus, notwithstanding the amount apportioned in 1848 exceeded the amount apportioned in 1847 by the sum of $8,379.42, yet the amount received by each child is considerably less than half of the sum bestowed in the year preceding. It is probable that the reports for the year 1848, which are now being received and upon which the apportionment for 1849 must be based, will be full and complete from each county in the State. Should this expectation be realized it is a rational inference that the number of recipients of the State school fund for the present year will not be far short of 200,000. This number will be annually augmented by thousands, while the amount to be apportioned by the State cannot much exceed the dividend declared on the school fund for the past year by the bank of the State of Missouri unless the school fund itself should be increased. This fund has been invested, in pursuance of law, in bank stock and has for the last three years yielded as large dividends as ought to have been expected as large, perhaps, as the bank will ever again declare.

If, then, the number of participants in this bounty of the State be continually and rapidly increased while the amount for distribution remains stationary, it is apparent that in a very short time the amount to be received by each child will be too small an inducement for parents and guardians to keep up that organization, which alone can entitle them to the use of the money.

In adopting the principle of equal distribution among the children in the State, without reference to the requisitions of the act of 1845, the General Assembly doubtless contemplated the eventual augmentation of the school fund so much, at least, as to prevent the annihilation of a system which, so far, has worked well and upon which so much money and time have been profitably expended.

The basis of the act of 1847 is correct both in theory and in practice. There was perhaps anterior to its enactment a question as to its expediency. The passage of the law must be viewed as having settled that question. It now remains for the Legislature to provide a fund sufficiently large to induce a continuance as well as active increase of district organization in accordance with that provision which requires that a school shall be taught for three months during the year before any part of an apportionment can inure to its benefit. Unless prompt measures are adopted upon this subject the system itself must gradually decline. The fostering hand of the General Assembly alone can give vitality and practical utility to a system which promises, under its wise guidance, the most beneficial results.

The method by which the State school fund should be enlarged can best be determined by the wisdom of the Legislature. It may not, however, be improper to observe in this place that my predecessor as well as the present superintendent have recommended an increase of the school fund, by appropriating the proceeds arising from the sale of the 500,000 acres of land granted by Congress to the State of Missouri for purposes of internal improvement. There is, I conceive, but very little doubt but that the donor, upon proper representations, could be induced so to change the nature of the grant as to warrant the General Assembly in making the appropriation suggested. It is true that in accordance with the several laws authorizing such action, most of the money which has been realized from sales of these lands has been divided, share and share alike, among the several counties in this State. More than half of the whole amount can, however, yet be saved and applied to the cause of education if the Legislature should so determine.

Up to the 1st of October 1848, there has been paid into the State treasury, on account of sales of these lands, about $180,000; of this sum, a portion, say $166,000 has been divided among the ninety-six counties in the State giving to each about $1,800. This fund is distributed among the counties annually in the month of April. Since the last distribution, a sum of near $14,000 has been paid into the treasury, to which may be added an equal amount that will be paid in on the 1st of January 1849, which, with all the unsold lands, can be saved and applied as an increase of the school fund if the General Assembly should deem it expedient. Should this course be adopted, the school fund will be augmented from this source alone in a sum exceeding $380,000. The whole amount of the school fund at present is $575,000, which is invested in bank stock—the dividends on which furnish the amounts which are annually apportioned. If to this sum was added the whole amount of the proceeds arising from the sale of the 500,000 acre grant, which has not already been distributed among the counties, the school fund proper would approximate a million of dollars.

Although this would still be inadequate to the wants of the cause, yet, with that sum as a nucleus, if the General Assembly would adopt some general system for the annual increase of the principal, we would, in the course of a few years, find ourselves in possession of a fund commensurate with the wants of the State.

The act of 1847 simplifies the duties of the superintendent of common schools, and to a limited extent decreases the labors of the office, while in an equal degree it increases the amount of duty to be performed by the County Courts. It requires an enumeration of children in the several Municipal Townships in the various counties in the State. This is a defect, which it is hoped the General Assembly will remedy. All the acts prior to the last make the reports conform to the Congressional townships; the last act conflicts with the other laws on this subject and produces confusion. It is therefore respectfully suggested that hereafter the enumeration of children entitled to this fund be made by Congressional instead of Municipal townships.

It results from the operations of the act of 1847 that, although the superintendent makes an annual apportionment of State school money, yet he knows but little if any more of the actual condition of the district schools in the State than any active citizen who feels an interest in the subject and personally inspects the condition of a few schools in his town or county.

In most of the States of the Union where a system of common schools has been adopted it is one of the chief duties of the superintendent to travel over the State and personally inspect and thoroughly examine into the conditions of the schools and report to the Legislature the result of his observations. He advises or prescribes particular books as best adapted for general use—examines into the qualifications of teachers—hears and determines appeals—excites emulation, produces harmony and a general desire on the part of pupils and teachers for improvement. This cannot be the case in Missouri while the superintendent is compelled to remain at the seat of government engaged in the performance of the multifarious duties which devolve on him as Secretary of State.

It is important that the acts of 1845 and 1847 be made to harmonize; conflicting as they do in some of their provisions, uniformity of action by the various officers employed is rendered utterly impracticable. At present it is the most fruitful source of strife and contention that exists.

In my report to the last General Assembly, a recommendation was made which I deem it my duty to advert to again in this place. I refer to the establishment of a school for the education of young men to be employed hereafter as teachers in the elementary branches of learning.

Education is the great lever of modern times: through its influence, the shackles of tyranny, which for ages have fettered the minds and limbs of the masses of Europe, have been burst asunder, and the nations have been made conscious of their strength and power. Thrones and the various insignia of royalty have ceased to be the objects of the adoration of the people. That glittering cincture, the royal tiara, presses more heavily now on the wearer than on the subject. Enlighten the minds of the million in a single nation, and the light from the reflex alone irradiates the pathway of those nations which have groped their way in darkness for centuries.

Educate the masses, and you elevate the grade of morality and virtue. Educate the people, and they choose the right for its own sake; eschewing the doctrine of the subtle Italian, "that might with individuals as with nations should be the standard of right." In our own happy country, public opinion enacts the laws which govern: It is then peculiarly important to us that public sentiment should be virtuous and enlightened. The surest guaranty we can have of the perpetuity of our institutions will be found to consist in the moral and intellectual culture of each successive generation.

In conclusion, permit me to invoke the early and prompt attention of the General Assembly to this important subject.

FALKLAND H. MARTIN,
Supt. Com. Schools.

PART ONE

FUNCTIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Following the adoption of the new Constitution of Missouri and the modern trend in education, the responsibilities of the State Department of Education have been greatly increased. The work of the State Department of Education may be said in general to be of a two-fold nature; that is, it will comprise services designed (1) to improve all phases of instruction concerned with the education, health and general welfare of the learner at the respective levels and (2) to assist in effectively organizing, managing and financing the education program.

In order that the Department might best give services to the State which will aid in the improvement of instruction, the State Board of Education approved a new organization for the Department. The internal organization of the Department is set up on a functional basis. Each of three divisions (administration, instruction and planning, vocational education) is in charge of an assistant commissioner, who is responsible to the Commissioner of Education and who directs the activities of his division.

Under each division are seven or eight sections, each headed by a director. The sections in each division deal with a closely related area of work. This plan of organization places direct responsibility and appropriate authority in the hands of the assistant commissioner and the directors, and in turn, also allows for a complete coordination of efforts of the three divisions. Since the State Department of Education has the responsibility and the obligation of providing services designed and expected to improve the program of education in the State, it, therefore, in effect is a supervisory and service organization. It is the state policy of the State Board of Education to cooperate with all duly constituted educational organizations and agencies to the end that Missouri may achieve the best educational facilities possible.

PART TWO

STATISTICAL REPORT*

Part two of the One-Hundredth Annual Report of the Public Schools presents statistical information concerning the public school system of Missouri. The more important information included in the statistical tables is briefly summarized. More detailed information is given in the following tables. These data are for the school year beginning July 1, 1948 and ending June 30, 1949.

The total annual receipts and balances were $153,398,685; the disbursements were $108,392,080; and the balances June 30, 1949 were $45,006,605 for all the school districts in the state. These receipts and balances include tuition and transportation from other schools. Amount received for tuition was $3,165,859; amount received for transportation was $1,487,921 or a total of $4,653,780. The receipts and disbursements each should be reduced by this amount. These balances, exclusive of the City of St. Louis, were: Teachers fund, $17,153,641; incidental fund, $8,054,671; textbook fund, $608,968; building fund, $10,002,668; sinking fund, $3,141,116; and interest fund, $1,531,513. The balance for the City of St. Louis was $4,514,028.

Receipts during the 1948-49 school year increased over the 1947-48 school year in all funds except the sinking and interest funds. The balances, June 30, 1949, showed an increase over the balances, June 30, 1948, in all funds except the building and interest funds. The total balance, June 30, 1949, of $45,006,605, shows an increase of $5,092,615 over the balance the year previous. This balance should be considered as an operating balance.

As was shown in the 99th Report, these balances can be explained in two ways. Again government bonds were counted in the balances for the first time in a number of school districts. The school districts received over $4,000,000 in the liquidation of County and Township Capital Funds.

*Data in Part II were assembled from reports from the County Superintendents, County Clerks, Secretary of Boards of Education, State School Supervisors, and other records in the State Department of Education.

The source of school money is as follows:

Source	Amount	Per Cent
State Funds	$40,890,273	38 5
County and township funds	8,731,180	8 2
Local taxes	49,560,118	46 7
Other receipts	$11,687,391
Less tuition and transportation from other districts	4,653,780
	7,033,611	6 6
Totals	$106,215,182	100 0

Where the current dollar comes from and where it goes in school districts in the state is shown graphically on page 35.

The assessed valuation in Missouri for the 1948-49 period was $3,760,522,558. The average tax levy for high school districts was 191 cents and the average tax levy for the rural schools was 79 cents. The amount of local taxes collected was $49,560,118.

The trend showing the decrease in the number of school districts in Missouri from July 1, 1935 to July 1, 1949, is illustrated in Graph II on page 34. The decrease of more than 300 rural school districts during the last year shows the beginning effect of reorganization of school districts. Only two counties (Camden and Crawford) had adopted reorganized districts as proposed by county boards of education prior to July 30, 1949. The major decrease was caused by annexation and consolidation of many districts just previous to voting on proposed plans for reorganization. The number of existing school districts compared with the number of enlarged school districts as proposed by county boards of education is shown by the maps on pages 38 and 39.

The lists of high schools are shown on page 147 to 152. Of the 736 high schools in the state, 728 were approved and 8 were unapproved. In addition, there were 11 high schools maintained by state institutions. Of the 5,528 rural schools operating in Missouri, all met standards for approval by the State Department of Education with the exception of 272. The average high school enrollment in Missouri was 196.

Of the 640,327 pupils enrolled in Missouri public schools, 138,069 were in the rural schools; 26,880 were in kindergartens; 326,393 were in elementary schools; 143,947 were in high schools and 5,038 were in junior colleges. Of the 143,947 high school pupils 45,500 were non-resident. The enrollment trends since 1927 are shown graphically on page 33.

The number of school children transported to school continues to increase. There were 108,872 pupils transported a distance of two miles or more. Of this number transported 54,541 were resident elementary school pupils; 13,315 were resident high school pupils; 17,416 were non-resident elementary school pupils (no transportation reimbursement was paid by the state) and 41,016 were non-resident high school pupils. Of the 6,184 that were transported a distance of less than 2 miles (largely resident) 4,583 were elementary school pupils, and 1,601 were high school pupils. The Missouri for 1948-49 was 132 479.

The number of teachers in Missouri has varied but little since 1947-48. The number of rural teachers was 6,652; elementary school teachers 10,520; high school teachers 6,481; junior college teachers 269; and superintendents of schools 658; for a total number of 24,580 teachers. Of the 10,520 elementary school teachers, 791 were elementary school principals and 75 were supervisors. Of the 6,481 high school teachers, 631 were principals and 21 were supervisors. The average salary of these teachers was: Rural $1,423; elementary school $2,458; high school $2,888; and superintendents of schools $3,644. The salary trends for 6 years is shown on page 36.

For the 1948-49 school year, the average number of college semester hours for the elementary school teacher was 50.9 for rural teachers; 116.6 for elementary teachers in districts maintaining high schools, or an average in all elementary schools of 89.6 hours. The average number of college semester hours of the high school teacher was 145.5 and of the superintendents of schools 168.5.

The median tenure of the Missouri public school teacher was 3.8 years. The median tenure of the rural school teacher was 2.2; the elementary school teacher 5.5 and the high school teacher 5.1.

The median years of experience of Missouri school teachers was 11.7 years. The median experience of rural teachers was 6.1; the elementary school teachers was 13.5; and the high school teachers was 14.2.

The most common rural teacher in Missouri for the 1948-49 school year was a woman with 50.9 college semester hours of training; 6 years of teaching experience with 2.2 years in present position; she was paid a salary of $1,423. Thirty-one per cent of these teachers have a state or state school certificate. The average enrollment per teacher was 20.8 with an average daily attendance of 17.0 pupils.

The most common elementary teacher in Missouri again was a woman with 116.6 college semester hours of training; 13.5 years of teaching experience and 5.5 years in her present position. She was paid an annual salary $2,458. Ninety-two per cent had a state or state school certificate. The average enrollment per teacher was 31.1 with an average daily attendance of 27.1 pupils.

The most common high school teacher also was a woman with 145.5 college semester hours of training; 14.2 years of experience and 5.1 years in her present position. The annual salary was $2,888. Ninety-nine per cent had a state or state school certificate. The average enrollment per teacher was 22.2 with an average daily attendance of 19.9 pupils.

The most common superintendent of schools was a man with 168.5 college semester hours of training with a Masters Degree; 20.1 years teaching experience and has been in his present position 3.5 years. He was paid an annual salary of $3,644.

The current cost per pupil in average daily attendance in the public schools of Missouri for the 1948-49 school year was $162.25. A comparison of the 1948-49 school year with each of the six preceding school years on the per pupil current cost, the per pupil cost for debt service and capital outlay and the total per pupil cost is shown in the table below.
